ITF Specialisation courses		ITF Regional Training Centre Support	Published Manuals & Books

What is the Recognition of Coach Education Systems?

The overall objective of this programme is to ensure that the Coach Education systems operating in member nations meet the minimum standards of the ITF.

Recognition is based on the criteria and minimum standards for Coach Education. These standards were agreed by the ITF Task Force on Coach Education and endorsed by the ITF Coaches Commission and the ITF Board of Directors.

ITF Approved Syllabi

Currently the ITF has four levels of approved syllabi that NAs can use to educate and certify coaches.

These are shown in the chart below which also outlines the coaching competencies per level.

How can the ITF help nations to get ITF Recognition?

The ITF can help participating countries in a number of ways including:

- Regular visits by ITF Development Officer/ITF expert to advise.
- Use of the ITF approved syllabi and supporting materials.
- Grants to translate materials into the local language.
- ITF Tutor to conduct courses using ITF syllabi and/or to train local tutors.
- ITF Tutor courses at Play Tennis and CBI levels.
- ITF NA Director of Coach Education course.
- Discounted ITF Academy membership to help member nations with continuous education.
- ITF and OS funding for courses and Coach Education.

Benefits of ITF Approval:

- Confirmation of quality.
- External evaluation/feedback to help improve existing arrangements.
- Use of the ITF logo on the certificates of the NA.
- Help to attract funding from Government and Olympic Committee.
- More cost effective as local tutors can conduct courses.

The screenshot shows the ITF Academy website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the ITF Academy logo, a user profile icon, 'Log in | Register', and a language dropdown set to 'English'. The main content area features a large banner for a course titled 'HOW MUCH DO I KNOW ABOUT TENNIS?'. Below the banner, there is a 'Read More' button. Underneath the banner, there are two sections: 'Education' and 'iCoach'. The 'Education' section describes the official online platform offering short courses in various formats. The 'iCoach' section describes the official online library of high-quality videos and articles. Both sections have 'View More' buttons. On the right side of the page, there is a silhouette of a tennis player in action.

Continuous Education

The ITF supports continuous education and professional development of coaches. This is done primarily through the web portal www.itf-academy.com. The ITF Academy is a premier coach education resource offering both practical information and tennis-specific sport science content on technique, tactics, biomechanics, psychology, sports medicine and coaching methodology. ITF Academy is an invaluable learning and professional development tool for coaches and is available to all ITF member nations.

Application Process

Recognition of Coach Education system applications are open and we invite all ITF member nations to put forward their system for ITF recognition. For more information on this process please email ITF Coaching at education@itftennis.com
